

At work...

Main Photo: Peter A. Macharia, the project architect (with cap) getting the team ready to take site coordinates

Lower Photos:

- (i) Dishon Kirima, the Team Leader, briefing the research team,
- (ii) Team members acquainting themselves to each other and the task ahead,
- (iii) Peter Macharia seeking clarification on compound one structures from David Njuguna (the caretaker of the home),
- (iv) Team members exchange notes.

Acknowledgements

This Report has been prepared courtesy of;

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Githendu

*Delaware Kenya Association
(DELKA)*

Youth Core Ltd

M&N Design

The Project Research Team

Thamanda Community Members

"I look forward to the starting of this project. I envision my elementary school project benefiting from knowledge learnt. It is currently facing a lot of hitches due to lack of support services and appropriate networks. Plus, I would like to extend my theatrical skills to my community while making a lasting impact on the general physical health if we get an exercise track which lacks in this area."

*Mr. John Kuria, Thamanda Village.
28th January 2008.*

"One vision that I had for the project was seeing how the YEC and the future ones can be used to meet the needs of the local communities from where they are operating.

...our goal is to transform it into a model youth entrepreneurship centre that can eventually be replicated in other parts of the country. We are looking at empowering the youth, especially those from disadvantaged communities while arming them with entrepreneurship skills that they can use to advance themselves and their communities as a whole."

*Mr. Erastus Mong'are, President,
Delaware Kenya Association
(DELKA).*

Discover...
Reach...
Permeate...
Transform...

